Tips for using the Conversation Starters

Be comfortable with silence – allow time for the child/youth to think.

Let the child/youth finish their thought; don't interrupt.

Give "I don't know" answers more time (maybe the question was too broad, they need more time to think or they don't know).

Listen – don't jump to problem-solving.

Possible times to do these: meal time, in the car, before bed; make it a special and comfortable time together.

Ask for more information; don't assume you know what they mean.

Follow-up phrase suggestions

Can you tell me more?

Why?

What's that like for you?

How do/did you feel when . . . ?

What do you mean?

That sounds really hard/frustrating, etc.

How can I help?

What do you think you/we can do?

I'm trying to understand.

what would you like to have?

Would you rather have elephant ears or a dinosaur tail?

If you had wings, where would you fly?

Did you have a chance to be nice to someone today?
If yes, what did you do?

Would you rather eat lettuce or carrots?

What should we do more of as a family?

Name something you are thankful for.
